

Hands-on Advocacy in Law & Administration offers a one-of-a-kind tailored service to help you manage your administration, property and legal affairs.

Monique Ansems operates as your Personal Advocate.

She can be your legal advisor, support person, agent, administrative and financial manager, or all of the above.

You can call upon her to assist you for a short period of time (e.g. if you are going overseas or if you need to set up your administration) or over the long term.

You remain independent and in control, and have your own Personal Advocate providing advice and support whenever you need.

Free up your life and know you are in good hands!

There may be times when you need someone to help you manage your administration, property and/or finances. Or there are times when you have questions of a legal nature or need legal support.

Or you just want to free yourself of some of your administrative and property burdens to get on with more important things in your life.

Our Personal Advocate is your answer:

Monique is there for you to provide you with professional support and advice.

We keep fees affordable, distinguishing between legal and non-legal services. We offer package deals and hourly rates to suit your needs and wallet.

No additional or hidden costs, no administration costs or annual fees, and no travel cost within city limits. We like to keep our price structure simple and transparent.

All you have to do is contact Monique Ansems for a free initial meeting to discuss your situation and your wishes. We look forward to working with you in a successful and beneficial relationship.
